ADDITIONAL INFORMATION REQUEST

In an effort to expand the value of the records data, we desire to obtain age data for all trophies. We also wish to obtain rack weights of unmounted caribou, moose, and elk, and tusk weights for walrus. Adding age data to the other measurements for trophies should help substantiate the contention that most trophy-sized animals are well past prime breeding age. Weights of racks for caribou, moose and elk will aid in correlation of our records keeping with those systems used in Europe for their representatives of these animals. Please note that this is only a request for information; lack of this information for your trophy will not affect its entry status.

A. AGE DATA: If your trophy was aged by a wildlife biologist of the state or province you took it in, please attach a copy of the age determination. If age has not been determined, we would appreciate you forwarding the appropriate material indicated below, if still available. Should the requested material no longer be available, please indicate this on the line provided below.

- 1) An incisor or small cheek tooth for all bears and cats.
- 2) Any one of the small teeth for walrus.
- 3) One-half of the lower jaw with all teeth intact for all others.

B. RACK/TUSK WEIGHTS: The rack and attached skull weight for all unmounted caribou, moose, and elk should be taken in pounds and ounces and recorded below. Please use the codes below to indicate the amount of attached skull (circle the one that most closely describes the rack). For walrus tusks, the weight of each loose tusk should be taken, to the nearest ounce. If your rack or tusks are mounted, please check the box to the right. MOUNTED RACK/TUSKS

RACK WEIGHT: _____ (LBS./OZ.) TUSK WEIGHT: _____ (LBS./OZ.) _____ (LBS./OZ.)

RACK CODE DESCRIPTION	CODE
Rack cut from skull ABOVE the eye socket, resulting in a small amount of attached skull.	SMALL
Rack cut from skull THROUGH or below the eye socket, resulting in a moderate amount of attached skull.	DEEP
Rack with INTACT skull, less lower jaw.	SKULL
